

Priscolith® PC Resil™

Coating Blanket

The Optimal Blanket For Transfer Of Aqueous And UV Coatings

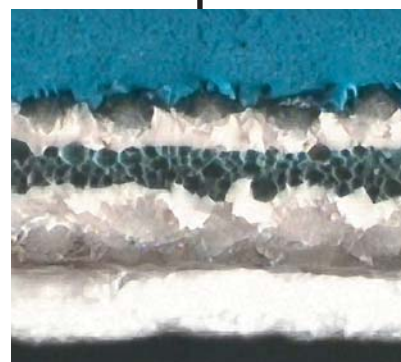

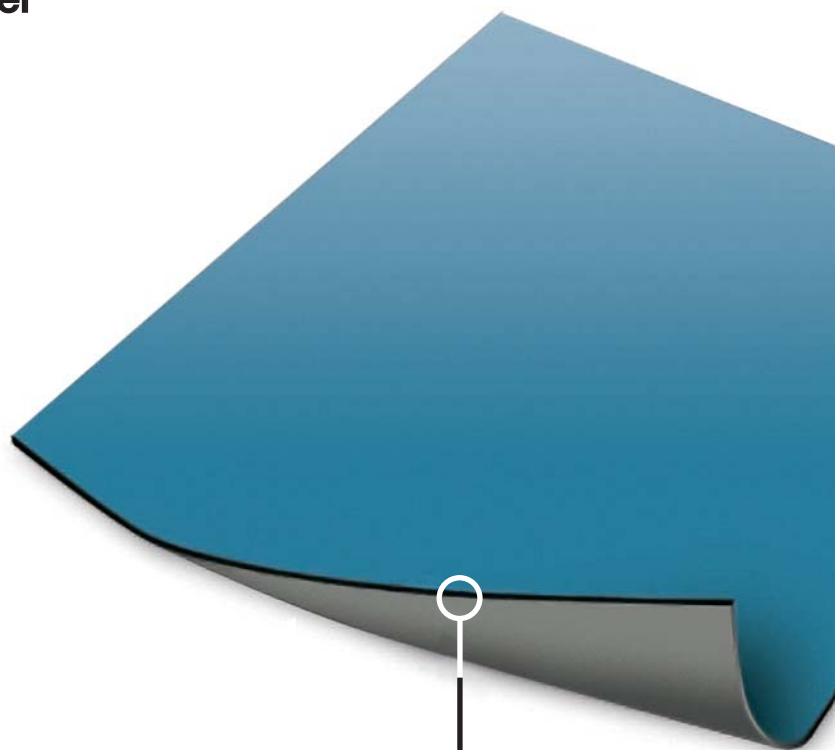

Priscolith PC Resil coating blankets offer printers excellent transfer of aqueous and UV coatings while allowing full depth stripping for clean reliable cutouts by hand or CAD systems.

The PC Resil is an adhesive-backed blanket, topped with a finely buffed surface for high quality coatings. Priscolith PC Resil coating blanket is built of a strong, fabric-based compressible carcass that has consistently proven itself in the field. The bi-directional mounting ability of the Priscolith PC Resil further demonstrates that these blankets are the most flexible option available for your coating applications.

For innovative coating blankets that meet your specific needs, count on the company that has it all, Prisco.
