PRISCO® SES 2750 Silicone Emulsion Series

Product Description: Prisco® SES 2750 Series are silicone slip emulsions offering cost-effective performance in high volume applications. The high-efficiency polymer silicone allows for optimum performance at lower dosage levels. The Prisco SES 2750 Series offers good durability, plus superior anti-marking and anti-static performance. Further, these products perform well on presses with extended delivery systems, with Goss Ecochill® systems and presses with silicone applicators directly after the oven. The Prisco SES 2750 Series are designed especially for large volume users, who rely on consistent performance, low dosing, and low cost.

Advantages:

- Exceptional anti-static and slip characteristics
- Economical low dosage formulas
- Controls bio-growth in the print production environment - less cleaning needed
- Allows for press runs at higher speeds with reduced applicator speeds
- The versatile formulas work well with all types of paper stocks
- “AS” products provide extra anti-static performance
